Title: The Order of Flame

Author: Lady Aleena of Scots

Hail fellow travelers. Here you will find an account on the founding of the Order of Flame Guild, as well as information on membership in this fine brotherhood.

But first, I must tell you of the Order's fine history. Begun in 2002, the Order was more a grouping of very good friends who sought adventure and kinship with their like-minded brethren.

It was first begun as a kinship between The Lord Rainanar also known as Myrrden, the Lady Scarlett, the Lady
Arianna, the Lord William (who has passed into shadow), and the Lady who writes this book.

We started with all 5 founders sharing in the guild duties, with myself as Guild Leader. We have seen and met many fine folks all over Sosaria some of whom have joined us as Brothers, and some who remain as friends of the guild. I'm very pleased that time and again, the finest from the land have chosen O~F as their home.

And now to the matter of joining our Order. Those who seek to join this fair kinship first must join our training guild, the Disciples of the Flame

learn how to do battle as
know our members and we will get to know them.
They will also sharpen their battle skills under the wing of a Councilman.

When their training is complete, as it often is in two week's time, the candidate in question will take a test before the membership to enter the Order as a full member. While the test is not easy, its secrets are ancient, and so I cannot tell you the contents of the test.

Should you find that you might like to join this fair Order, please send me a pidgeon [ICQ] to box 152714088. I thank you most kindly for your interest and willingness to learn about my guild's history.

May the fire guide
your way,
Lady Aleena of Scots
